THE APPLE COUNTRY

MISS BERTHA JACKSON RETURNS FROM TWO MONTHS' VISIT IN YAKIMA VALLEY

Miss Bertha Jackson of 316 Milford street, who has just returned from a two months' stay in Yakima, Washington, says it is a lovely place to visit, but that Southern California is the spot in which to live.

Yakima, she says, is the center of the great apple-growing industry of Washington which produces more apples than any other state in the union and more than half of its output comes from the Yakima valley. The rapid growth of that section has practically all been made within the past ten years since irrigation systems were established. Their roads are not equal to those of California, but they are beginning to build concrete highways and otherwise to improve them. She had never beheld such orchards before and was immensely interested in all the processes of production and marketing.

The ranchers sell to local dealers, she says, who put the fruit in cold storage and release it according to market demands. Miss Jackson's uncle had estimated his crop at 10,000 boxes and had found it would over-run that figure. He had contracted for it at $2.25 per box with the understanding that it would include a certain percentage of extra fancy apples. Orchards are so productive there that it is not at all uncommon. Miss Jackson says, to gather 25 boxes from one tree.

Heretofore they have not done much with diversified farming, but now they are beginning to raise wheat, she says, and considerable alfalfa is being grown.

The valley is bounded on one side by the Cascade range and not far away is the reservation of the Yakima Indians who gave their name to the district. The country is rather rolling and the mountains round about with towering, snow-capped Mount Ranier dominating the landscape make the scenery magnificent. It was getting cold before she left there and some snow had fallen. On the way home she stopped in San Francisco for several days to visit friends.

DIDN'T RECOGNIZE JUSTICE

Mr. and Mrs. Mattison B. Jones stopped a day or two in Denver on their way home from Washington. One of the things they saw there which greatly impressed Mrs. Jones was a legend in large letters placed above the door of one of the newspaper offices which read: "Oh Justice! When expelled from other habitations make this thy dwelling place." A wag newspaper artist made it the theme of a cartoon in a rival paper in which he pictured Justice entering the sanctum and one proprietor exclaiming: "Who the h— is that?" and his partner replying: "How the Devil should I know?"

The newspaper men hit by the cartoon so thoroughly appreciated the cleverness of it that they sent for the artist and persuaded him to accept a position on their staff where he is still employed.

NINTH ANNIVERSARY

MR. AND MRS. WHEATLEY CELEBRATE AT EAST ELK AVENUE HOME

One of the most pleasant gatherings of the season was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Wheatley, 1141 East Elk avenue, Saturday evening, November 1st. The occasion was the ninth anniversary of their wedding.

The home was beautifully decorated, the cosy living room, with yellow marigolds and ferns together with yellow and black streamers from corners of the room. Other parts of the house were arranged with white chrysanthemums and asparagus.

The evening was spent in games and a pleasant program was given. Miss Duffield Sturges of Los Angeles gave several of her enjoyable readings. Mrs. Wheatley sang. Mrs. Wheatley holds a Bachelor of Music Degree from the University of Redlands, and her songs are always appreciated.

Hot chocolate, doughnuts and pumpkin pie were served. At the close of the evening, Mr. and Mrs. Wheatley were surprised by the following words from the president of Mr. Wheatley's class:

"To our honorable hostess and host of the evening: As representative of the class of 1921 and those who are so pleasantly associated with

SCHOOL NEWS

MRS. HARWOOD, MISS BIGELOW AND MRS. HUNT SUBSTITUTE FOR ABSENT TEACHERS

Three substitutes are now employed in the city schools. Mrs. Harwood, wife of Ernest Harwood, principal of Cerritos Avenue School, is at Central Avenue School taking the work of Miss Sparks, who was transferred to Broadway School when Miss Sinclair resigned her position there. Miss Vesta B. Bigelow of 430 West Doran street is substituting at Cerritos Avenue School for Mrs. Curtis, who has been given a leave of absence to care for her mother who is critically ill. The third substitute is Mrs. Jessie H. Hunt of 459 West Maple street, who is filling the place of Mrs. Taylor at Columbus Avenue School. Mrs. Taylor's health became impaired and last May she was granted a leave of absence which she is spending with her sister who is living near San Francisco. She reports that she is so much better that she will be able to return to her work at the opening of the mid-year term.

Work on the new kindergarten buildings has been slightly delayed by the absence of County Superintendent Keppel. The law requires that plans for any school building, no matter how small, must be approved by the Superintendent. That approval will doubtless be secured very soon and will enable the School Trustees to advertise for the two to be constructed at Columbus and Central Avenue Schools. After the bids have been let the actual construction work should not take over sixty days, the trustees believe.

The architects will visit Glendale Wednesday to go over the Intermediate Building preparatory to drafting plans for the addition. They have already made a preliminary sketch for the Broadway Building which is before the trustees for consideration.

SEVENTH-DAY ADVENTISTS HELP NEEDY

That the Seventh-Day Adventists within the territory of the Pacific Union conference gave 992 treatments to the sick, provided 2202 meals and 3434 articles of clothing for the worthy poor, and spent 12,998 hours in what is known as "Christian help work," during the three months ending September 30th, is shown by the quarterly report of Elder J. Adams Stevens, home missionary secretary, which has just been issued. Mr. Stevens recently returned from a trip to Washington, D. C., to attend a council of home missionary executives from the entire country. This convention was presided over by Elder C. V. Leach, in charge of this department of Seventh-Day Adventist activity for the General Conference. Plans were laid for more thorough organization of the home missionary work, and for advance strides in all lines of individual Christian activity.

The board of directors of the Loma Linda College of Medical Evangelists, with which is affiliated the White Memorial Hospital in Los Angeles, these institutions being under Seventh-Day Adventist supervision, held a meeting this morning in the office of the Pacific Union Conference here. Physicians in training in this institution receive the first two years' instruction at Loma Linda, and the last two years' work at Los Angeles. Including the Loma Linda Sanitarium and Hospital, and the college for physicians, the Adventists have a half-million dollar plant in full swing, and the applicants to begin the course this year were far in excess of any class which has yet taken work at this institution. Dr. Newton Evans is in charge of the medical training at Loma Linda, and Dr. Percy T. Magan, of the White Hospital in Los Angeles.

W. C. T. U. MEETING

A very large and enthusiastic meeting of the City W. C. T. U. was held Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. D. Yard on North Maryland. Mrs. Hattie C. Young, State W. C. T. U. Secretary, gave the address, her theme being "Jubilee Work," including Americanization and world-wide work. She particularly dwelt on the great need of Americanization effort. A very beautiful vocal solo was contributed by Mrs. Patterson and two new members, Mrs. Patterson and Miss Frater, were received into the Union. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess at the close of the afternoon, and a social half hour was enjoyed.

Logan Bowen and his wife, formerly Miss Ruby Borthick, returned Monday to their home in Modesto, after spending the best part of a week with friends in Glendale.

JAPAN HESITATES

AFTER RATIFICATION OF PEACE TREATY HAD BEEN ANNOUNCED, EMPEROR POSTPONED SIGNING

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

TOKIO, Japan, November 4.—After it was announced that Japan had ratified the peace treaty, the Emperor's approval of ratification was postponed. Ratification will probably remain incomplete until next week's cabinet meeting.

GENERAL DEFICIENCY BILL SIGNED

PROVIDES APPROPRIATIONS FOR PROHIBITION ENFORCEMENT, HIGH PRICE CAMPAIGN, ETC.

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, November 4.—The president today signed the General Deficiency bill carrying the prohibition enforcement appropriation, and the appropriations for the Alaskan railway and for the campaign against the high cost of living.

COASTWISE STEAMERS

INTERSTATE COMMERCE COMMISSION OMITTS THEIR REGULATION FROM NEW RAILWAY BILL

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, November 4.—The House Interstate Commerce committee today tentatively decided not to include the regulation of coastwise steamship lines in the new railway bill. The Pacific Coast Chambers of Commerce had strenuously opposed this form of regulation.

WOMEN PICKETS ATTACK STRIKERS

FIERCE FIGHT AT YOUNGSTOWN, OHIO, FOLLOWING EXCHANGE OF BRICKBATS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

YOUNGSTOWN, O., November 4.—Women pickets today attacked strikebreakers employed at the Youngstown Steel Tube Company using brickbats. A fierce fight followed which was ended by the police when they arrested three women and seven men.

TO COMBAT GOVERNMENT'S INJUNCTION

ATTORNEYS FOR UNITED MINE WORKERS PLAN DEFENSE PROGRAM ALONG THREE LINES

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, November 4.—Labor leaders today said that their advisers show that organized labor throughout the country is preparing to extend financial assistance to the striking coal miners whose strike benefit funds have been tied up by the government's injunction. These leaders scoffed at the reports that the strike is disintegrating.

United Mine Workers' attorneys who have been conferring for three days at Indianapolis, today announced a program for combating the injunction the government secured the day before the strike went into effect. The defense will take three lines: First, the miners will ask the federal court to dissolve the temporary injunction. Second, stubborn opposition will be offered to the government's position which asks for a permanent injunction and a court order demanding that union leaders withdraw the strike call. The third phase of the defense will be an offer to secure a modification of the injunction now in force so as to permit payments of strike benefits.

STRIKE MEDIATION BARELY POSSIBLE

PRIVATE REPORTS REACHING WHITE HOUSE AND PRESIDENT LEWIS' STATEMENT ENCOURAGE HOPE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Confidential reports to the White House today encouraged the belief that striking coal miners are somewhat in favor of President Wilson's offer to mediate the strike. Secretary Tumulty reiterated the offer of mediation in a statement issued this morning. The government is ready to start upon arbitration as soon as the striking miners are ready to accept it.

Senator Kenyon today introduced a resolution to appoint a committee of three members of congress to attempt to arbitrate the strike. Simultaneously with this development, pointing to a tendency toward mediation, President Lewis of the United Mine Worker's of America, issued his first statement since the strike began, saying:

"It would be a simple matter for the government and the operators to set in motion the machinery to negotiate a new agreement. His statement was considered highly significant.

PRESIDENTIAL POSSIBILITIES

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—Presidential possibilities started coming to the front with elections in progress in five states. In Washington former Secretary McAdoo and Attorney General Thomas are the most prominently mentioned among the democratic possibilities. Champ Clark, Governor Cox of Ohio, and Senators Chamberlain and Underwood are considered among first division democratic possibilities.

HOUSING PROBLEM

PASADENA PROPOSES TO MEET GRAVE EMERGENCY BY BORROWING 1000 ARMY TENTS

Pasadena real estate dealers report the situation is acute with regard to shortage of houses there for renting purposes with every prospect that there will be a big influx of tourists to be cared for. That Pasadena's reputation for hospitality need not suffer by reason of this condition which is but a reflection of a state existing everywhere, the Chamber of Commerce of that city is canvassing ways and means of meeting the situation. One plan which has been suggested is to get a supply of army tents to be erected on some parking site to be secured by the city which would have the necessary sanitary conveniences, water, light and gas connections. The regular residents of Pasadena who are accustomed to the out-of-doors and to camping as a recreation will be asked to rent their homes to the incoming tourists. As the prices which can probably be obtained for these furnished houses will be large, the idea may appeal to many residents as a good speculation. As a preliminary step John Dillon, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce has sent telegrams to Secretary Baker of the War Department and to Congressman Randall asking them to secure for Pasadena five hundred to one thousand army tents to be used by the Pasadena residents who are willing to turn their homes over to visitors. The plan is to get the war department to loan the tents from the nearest army camp from which they can be released. The telegram to Congressman Randall stated:

"Housing conditions in Pasadena are becoming more serious every day. We want your help in securing 500 to 1000 army tents. Pasadena wants to borrow them from the War Department to establish a tent city to help care for tourists this winter. Inadequate housing will prove most grave and serious. We can solve the problem with this number of tents."

BIRTHDAY OBSERVANCE

Mrs. Ella Richardson kept open house Sunday for friends to drop in at will in celebration of the natal days of her two children, Will and Eula (Mrs. Mitchell), who, though not twins, arrived on the same day of the month. Mrs. Mitchell was not able to come down to share in the celebration.

Mrs. Richardson reports that her son Paul, who was quite homesick the first weeks he was at Stanford, is getting interested in his work and making friends which are changing the aspect of affairs for him. His brother John, who is attending Mount Tamalpais Military Academy, had a five-day vacation last week which he spent with Paul and that helped some. The family is planning to spend Thanksgiving at the home of Mrs. Mitchell in King City, the only member who will be absent being Burt Richardson. He is taking a special course at Harvard to better prepare him for a position he has accepted with the U. S. Steel Company. But he expects to come home to spend the Christmas holidays.

BIG ELKS' MEETING

INITIATIONS BY PASADENA LODGE OFFICIALS AND NEW APPLICATIONS

A big attendance of members complimented the new members who were initiated into the Glendale Lodge Monday night, the initiation work being performed by Exalted Ruler Cheeseman and his official staff of the Pasadena Lodge who were accompanied by quite a delegation and who brought with them Mr. Buzek, a very fine pianist, who has filled professional engagements with metropolitan opera companies. His numbers were greatly enjoyed. They were also accompanied by a fine boy whistler from the Crown City.

Those initiated were: James P. Drake, J. Roger Bentley, William C. Wier, E. C. Warring, R. A. Clapper, Charles F. Oelze, F. W. Loesch, E. S. Bliven and S. B. Atmore. About sixteen applications for membership were received.

The session was followed by a fine vaudeville entertainment in the Jinks Hall and a nice supper.

A large delegation of members came up from Fillmore and there were several distinguished visitors including Judge Summerfield of Los Angeles and Harry S. Tichnor, Past President of the Southern California Elks' Association.

VISIT TO OLD HOME

MRS. J. W. M. BURTON RENEWS ACQUAINTANCE WITH MOUNTAINS OF N. CAROLINA

Mrs. J. W. M. Burton, of Montrose, appears to have realized all her expectations in the visit to Asheville, North Carolina, her old home city, from which she has just returned. She was fortunate in being able to enjoy several mountain trips she had never taken before although they are near Asheville. One of these trips was over a scenic railway through a section of the mountains known as "Little Switzerland," in which the scenery is very beautiful. This trip took her to the home of Mr. Burton's people at Burnsville, N. C. Until she traversed this road she had not known that such scenery existed in America. One of the side trips she greatly enjoyed was to Chimney Rock which is about thirty miles from her old home. The rock is poised as though ready to topple over at any moment. It is a huge thing, as large as the ordinary building lot, and when you have climbed it you are up in the heavens and have the feeling that you can see the whole world.

Another very pleasant outing was when she and her sister went to the old original homestead which their parents staked out in the wilderness and which they had not seen since Mrs. Burton was six years old when the family moved to Asheville. She had always been discouraged from making the visit by her brother who insisted she would be disappointed, but his predictions were not realized. It is very lovely, she says, and she would like nothing better than to own it even if she never saw it again.

As they were approaching this old home she was astonished and delighted to find that she recognized the neighboring farms and remembered the names of their owners. She could not resist the temptation to call at one of these doors and on giving her name the face of the well-preserved old lady who had spent her life there lighted up as she inquired: "Are you the one who was bitten by the snake?" With this proof of remembrance Mrs. Burton was glad to affirm that she was that one. They found the old homestead still standing, ate apples from the orchard their father planted and gathered chestnuts from a tree they had known in childhood. A big company which controls resorts established in the mountains now owns all that country for fifteen miles round about, including her old home which probably could not be repurchased.

Mrs. Burton visited a sister in Milwaukee, stopped to see friends in Chicago and came home via San Antonio where she made another visit. She had the excitement of being in two wrecks in the course of her travels, but no one was hurt in either one.

The best part of coming home, she says, was the fact that California never looked so beautiful and satisfactory to her as it did this time.

"UNIONIZATION"

BIG TOPIC SELECTED FOR CONTESTS BY DEBATERS OF CENTRAL LEAGUE

W. D. Root, head of debating in Glendale Union High, states that the general subject which has been selected for the schools of the league to debate December 5th is "Unionization."

It will be remembered that a debating league has been organized of schools that are in the central division of the California Interscholastic Federation in Athletics.

The question as framed in G. U. H. has been made broad enough to cover the various ramifications likely to be included in the final question. As the students are now considering the topic it reads: "Resolved that an increase of the groups and members in the American Federation of Labor would further the welfare of the American people." There are about fifteen in the debating class and they have taken up the work with enthusiasm. The first debate will occur a month from Friday. Alhambra will send a team here and Glendale debaters will go to Covina.

Miss Edith Learned of Burbank entertained the little folks in her Sunday School class in the Central Christian Church with a Halloween party Friday evening, calling for them with her auto and bringing them home again. They enjoyed Halloween games, Halloween refreshments, etc., in a pretty setting of bright pumpkins, black cats, witches, etc.

STANDARDS OF LIVING

In this day of rapidly advancing wages, there is much loose talk about the American standard of living. The American standard of living is a myth. It is not a standard. Nothing about it is fixed except its decree that expenditures must equal the income.

Thrift would suggest that we tone down our tastes to meet the rapidly diminishing value of the dollar. Instead, having reconciled ourselves to high prices, we remove all restraints of caution and buy the best regardless of cost.

If we once wore $8.00 shoes, we show our resentment of the fact that similar shoes now cost $12.00 by buying a better grade that costs $20.00. For the first time in our lives we are literally taking no thought for the morrow.

If we have been comfortable in a house of five rooms, this epidemic of much money persuades us to sell it and build a house of ten rooms—five of them to be used by the family, and five of them to serve as warehouse space for newly acquired furniture to impress our friends.

A sensible standard of living is one that grants physical comforts, necessary food, and a few hours of each day for relaxation. Cluttering up our houses with high-priced furniture for which we have no need, buying high-priced foods to fill the garbage can, wearing high-priced clothing in the hope of impressing the neighbors, mortgaging the house in order to buy a car with two more cylinders—all this may be American. But if that is the American standard, we need a standard that requires a little more sense and a little less vulgarity.

If we must have a standard, let us acquire one that will not keep neck and neck with the pay envelope and encourage the popular legend concerning the remarkable birth-rate of suckers.

The greater part of the world's supply of argument is produced by those who have never produced anything else to lend weight to their opinions.

The American-born workman has small love for the European mongrel who was brought across in steerage because he would work for little and now demands an unfair share of the wealth American labor produced.

The man who stays on the job and keeps his saw ringing is doing more for his country than the statesman who poses and spills language.

Dad will wear last year's overcoat this winter. The car must have a new rear casing.

Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hill and children of Santa Ana have been the guests of Mrs. Hill's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Moody, of North Maryland avenue, for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. James McDonald have vacated property at 1255 South Maryland avenue, which has been purchased by Mr. Adams, son of George Adams of Ivy street. The Adams family has taken possession of its new home.

Mr. Downing, in charge of Glendale's Western Union Office, is confined to his home by illness which resembles in some particulars influenza though not a typical case. A substitute is looking after the business of the office.

Mrs. W. F. Porter of Casa Verdugo has returned from a six weeks' visit with her brother, F. W. Baldwin, at Santa Cruz. Mrs. Porter spent a most delightful time visiting her brother and several of her old friends and comes back to Glendale very much refreshed.

The next league football game in which the team of Glendale High is interested will come off next Friday on the Glendale field. The team of Covina High comes here and will be accompanied by a large delegation of rooters. It will probably be an exciting event.

James B. Hickman, father of Mrs. Adelaide Imler and Miss Cora Hickman, is very ill at the family home on West Park avenue. He has been in failing health for some time. He is a veteran of the Civil War and an old resident who has a host of friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Knead, of Portland, Oregon, were entertained at dinner Monday night by Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Hoffman, of 119 East Wilson avenue. Mr. Knead recently arrived from overseas where he was in the aviation service. He and Mrs. Knead expect to locate in Southern California and are trying to make up their minds where it will be.

Frank Muhleman, president of the Board of City Trustees, motored to Cabazon last Friday, where he owns a ranch on which his brother, Randall Muhleman, has been making his home and where he has been so far restored to health that he has decided to remain permanently and has built and opened a general store. Mr. Muhleman's father has also gone to Cabazon and his health has likewise greatly improved there.

Little Katherine Cross, daughter of H. D. Cross of 329 Mira Loma avenue who has been so dangerously ill of typhoid fever at a hospital in Los Angeles, is slowly improving. The crisis was reached the latter part of last week and if she continues to gain at the present rate physicians say she may be considered out of danger by the end of the present week.

Mrs. John W. Stauffacher, of 721 Orange Grove avenue, has just returned from a four weeks' visit in Texas at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Henson Rogers, who lives in Dallas. She had a very pleasant time although considerable rain fell during her stay which made a great deal of mud from which she was glad to escape. She is better pleased than ever with California. Mr. and Mrs. Rogers expect to come to Glendale for the Christmas holidays.

Edgar H. Fry reports that the schools for giving technical training which have been established in connection with the "Y" at San Pedro for shipyard workers, are a great and growing success in spite of the strikes which have taken some men from San Pedro. The buildings which have been erected between the two shipyards are now completed and the townspeople are taking a great interest in them and sharing with the men the advantages. They promise to become a real community center. Every Monday night a lecture on some topic of general interest is given and every Friday night there are moving pictures.

Many Glendale friends will be interested to know that Mrs. J. Samuel Eastman, formerly of this city, has returned from Central America, where she has been living for the past year. Mrs. Eastman and small son are at present with her mother, Mrs. James Graham, of Dryden St. Mrs. Eastman has just completed a tour with her husband through Salvador, Nicaragua, Costa Rica and Panama and has many interesting things to tell of these countries and her experiences. They passed through the big earthquake in Salvador in April when several hundred persons were killed and many buildings shaken down and were in San Jose, Costa Rica, at the time of the assassination of Minister of War Tinoco, resulting in riots, revolution and finally the overthrow of that regime. Mr. Eastman, who is representative in Central America for a large commercial house of Los Angeles, is expected back about the first of the year for a brief stay.

MASONIC NOTICE

The stated meeting of Unity Lodge, No. 368, F. and A. M., will be held Tuesday, Nov. 4th, at 7:30 p. m. The Jinnistan Grotto Entertainers of Los Angeles will be present. R. W. MASTERS, W. M. A. W. TOWER, Sec.

Glendale Needs Large Reservoir

Construction near the mouth of Verdugo Canyon at about the 720 foot level of a reservoir of 7,500,000 gallons capacity is one of the items in the proposed improvement of the City Water System for which the bond election has been called to provide funds. This reservoir is needed to provide more storage capacity and to provide better pressure in certain parts of the city where the service is not good owing to the fact that these sections are so near the same elevation as the present reservoirs. The present reservoirs which were built many years ago before the water systems were acquired by the city are of small capacity and are at an elevation of from 530 to 682 feet.

The cost of such a reservoir would be $40,000, a reasonable sum for such an important feature of an adequate water system for a city the size and importance of Glendale.

We don't want Glendale to be a back number. Support the bond issue November 12. It won't cost you a cent in taxes.

THE BUTTON FOR THE WINDOW

She was a woman so large and fine that she might have passed for a sculptor who wished to represent in heroic proportions the mother of a race. Her son was just a good, typical, sturdy boy and they were talking about the Red Cross Drive for membership and the brief statement of what it meant, for evidently the boy was to make some kind of an announcement. The phraseology of the announcement was rehearsed with great earnestness by the boy and numerous promptings by the mother followed by protests from the son that she "mixed him all up." The next day when a Parent-Teacher meeting was held the boy appeared before a sympathetic audience of mothers and made his little speech obviously excited by his audience. As he told the story of the drive objective, "They hope to get twenty millionaires. One dollar will entitle you to membership for 1920 to a poster and to a button for your window," the mothers smiled—they had boys of their own—and they all understood the message even though it was given topsy turvy. The dollars came out, the mothers enrolled for membership and the "button for the window," while the boy retired with the satisfied consciousness of having done his patriotic duty.

ATTRACTIVE NEW HOUSES

Two new houses are being built by Mark Russell, of 1007 South Central, which he declares are as good houses as he was in the habit of building back in Dakota where climatic conditions were more exacting than here. He says they will be the best houses of their kind that have recently been built here. They are being put up on Louise street about two hundred feet north of Doran. One is a trifle smaller than the other and they are being built to sell at $6100 and $6300. In general construction they are quite similar and will contain a large living room with fireplace and bookcases each side of the fireplace, a dining room, breakfast room, two large sleeping rooms, bathroom with woodstone floor and tub enclosed in woodstone case. There will be linen closets, plenty of cupboards, large closets and every room except the living room which contains the fireplace will have vents going up through the roofs to be used in connection with gas radiators. These vents carry off the noxious fumes and make them perfectly safe in case the flame flares out. There would be no possible danger of an explosion or of asphyxiation. The house also contains water heater, recess for ice chest, large laundry tubs, etc. There will also be a garage. Mr. Russell is building to sell.

COSTUME HALLOWE'EN PARTY

A Halloween party was given Saturday evening by the Misses Pauline Neer and Cornelia Wilson, at the home of Pauline Neer on West California avenue.

A very pleasant evening was spent in playing games and dancing, but the crowning features were a marshmallow roast in the yard, and a hunt for a pumpkin jack-o'-lantern, a black cat and a walnut. The young people who found these were given prizes.

Nearly everyone was in costume and masked.

Refreshments in keeping with Halloween were served about 10:30.

Those who enjoyed the evening were the Misses Charlotte Winsel, Margaret Morgan, Bernice Huskin, Dorothy McGinnis, Garnet Alexander, Dorothy McDowell, Frances Wyman, Katherine Stofft and Marguerite Eckles, Messrs. Laurence Smith, Edwin Earl, Frederick Stofft, Gordon Richardson, Samuel Thompson, Lee Payne, Jack Wright, Valentine Hollingsworth, Albert Bryant and Jack Lawson.

WEATHER FORECAST: Fair tonight and Wednesday. No important change in temperatures.

Dr. and Mrs. Colin Cable of Columbus avenue entertained at dinner on Sunday, Miss Sampson, of Canada, and Miss Lodge, of New York City.

Advertise in the Evening News.

DANCING AND CARDS

Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Brown of Mariposa street were host and hostess at a pretty party Saturday evening. A Halloween setting was provided, yellow carnations being effectively used in decoration. Guests were entertained with dancing and cards and a light supper was served at the close of the evening. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Crosby, Mr. and Mrs. F. Allen, Miss Guzman, Robert Gray, Miss Bessie McIntyre, Earl and Albert McIntyre, Miss May Sharp and Christy Sladel, the last two remaining to spend Sunday with their host and hostess.

BENTLEY-BUILT HOMES HAVE INDIVIDUALITY

Houses are like people. Some though pretentious are really common, just like thousands of other homes. Others have an atmosphere, a winning, compelling quality that distinguishes them from every other home you ever entered. Of course the personality of the occupants is reflected in the home but this does not entirely account for the difference.

BENTLEY-BUILT HOMES have an individuality of their own even before they are occupied. It is not a matter of chance either. When they are planned, when the material is being selected and all during the process of construction the touch that makes a house different, the feature that will appeal is carefully considered.

Our complete and accurate plans, the splendid materials we use and our superior construction are all features that help to add this note of difference to the homes we build.

MAYORALTY RACE IN SALT LAKE CITY
(By United Press)
SALT LAKE CITY, Nov. 4.—With three candidates for mayor heading the list, Salt Lake City is today in the throes of a municipal election.
Frank J. Hewlett and E. A. Bock are expected to put up a close fight for mayorality, while Theodore T. Burton seems to be leading in the race for city commissioner.

MUNICIPAL ELECTION IN SAN FRANCISCO

(By United Press)
SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Nov. 4.— Interest in San Francisco's municipal election today centers chiefly in the fight for the offices of mayor and district attorney. Of the two, the vote for the district attorneyship is expected to bring the closest vote, and the outcome is very uncertain.
Supporters of Mayor Rolph have revised their previous estimates that he would be re-elected by a plurality of 30,000 over Eugene E. Schmitz, former mayor and present supervisor.
But they still expect him to win
by a very comfortable margin.

District Attorney Charles H. Fickert has a formidable opponent in Judge Matthew Brady, though several other candidates are still in the race.

With thirty candidates in the field for the nine positions on the board of supervisors, the vote will undoubtedly be very scattered, though several of the incumbents are expected to poll a large vote.

Both Police Judges Oppenheim and Fitzpatrick are making determined fights for re-election, and their supporters believe it will be merely a question of counting the votes, but the voters have a large field of candidates to pick from.

The general labor unrest has added a great deal to the uncertainties and anxieties of the present campaign, and many of the candidates are preparing to take the "rest cure" after the polls close this evening.

HANFORD VOTES ON SCHOOL BONDS

(By United Press)
HANFORD, Cal., Nov. 4.—A large vote is expected today in Han-ford's grammar school bond election as the result of an enthusiastic campaign to bring voters to the polls which is being carried out by the Board of Trade and other civic organizations.

Great publicity has been given the campaign of the school trustees to issue bonds for $115,000 for the proposed grammar school.

NO DEMAND FOR FICTION

(By United Press)
LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 4.—A year of peace has been enough to bury war fiction in its grave, as far as Los Angeles readers are concerned.

Public library reports show the demand for this class of reading is practically nil.

The demand for books of American travel and American history has steadily gained as the demand for war fiction decreased.

them on this auspicious occasion it falls to my lot to say a few words at this time.

"I feel it an honor conferred on me to be chosen to add felicitations and congratulations from this class to one of its esteemed members and the lady whose hand is his.

"I first want to say we are glad to be here.

"We have left the realms where books, ologies and medical lore are transcendent to gather here to celebrate a great event.

"We cannot add anything to what was done nine years ago, but say in the words of another: 'Blest be the tie that binds a union of lives in a cause so great and divinely ordained.'

"But laying aside generalities we have endeavored to put our good wishes in a material form and though such lacks tremendously of expressing in any adequate degree what we wish it might still we present these presents.

"Let this tray convey our wishes for material prosperity in basket and store and in every way, friends numbered as the sand on the sea shore.

"Let this basket of flowers represent spiritual blessings from above which we wish to be yours, as perfect and beautiful Christian lives as these flowers come from the hands of the Creator.

"Thus with this dual blessing is vouched safe a life here and when this globe is no longer inhabited a still better one is in waiting."

Those present were the 1921 medical class and their lady friends, from the Medical School of White Memorial Hospital, Los Angeles, Cal., of which Mr. Wheatley is a member.
